Description
When creating an "Action" (attached img) the tool (Run Feature Action) doesn't run this action by default. In order for the tool to work you need to actively select the created Action by pressing the drop-down arrow by the tool button. This is useful when you want to select a specific tool among others, but the tool should default to the first in the list. Especially if there's only one action defined...
