Description

Hi,

if I try to calculate values from the field calculator of Processing, Qgis will give to me this error message (please find the attachment).

If I do the same with the field calculator of Qgis I will not have this dump. I have a development qgis version which I have update today morning.

Thank you

Best wishes,

tested (on Linux and qgis master)on a shape with a couple of millions records and went all fine.

More details are needed (what kind of column, what operation, what data).

Hi,

I have a shape file with lines and I ask to the field calculator in Processing to calculate the length of these lines ($length). It shows to me the preview of the final result (attachment) but then it doesn't calculate the length but..dump!

 If I ask the same operation to the qgis field calc. it works well and creates a new column with the length data.

Thanks for the time and sorry for the previous missing data, this is my first ticket ;)
