

QGIS Application - Bug report #14466

Conditional formatted table cells expressions are evaluated wrong

2016-03-12 04:57 AM - Arnold Huisman

Status: Rejected
Priority: Low
Assignee: Nathan Woodrow
Category: Attribute table
Affected QGIS version: 2.14.0	Regression?: No
Operating System: Windows	Easy fix?: No
Pull Request or Patch supplied: No	Resolution: not reproducible
Crashes QGIS or corrupts data: No	Copied to github as #: 22444
Description
For simple expressions using @value for just the one cell works correctly. When using @value to compare to other cells in the same row, the expression is evaluated wrong, there seems to be bug that causes the expression to be evaluated with old data from a previous row. Ordering the columns makes this very apperent. In the attachements you can see that Knipsel1 is correct, but Knipsel2 is wrong. There i only changed the ordering of the column, but the expression "@value > "Tot"" is now evaluated wrong (the red value is still less then 'tot'). Sometimes clicking on the cells will change the evaluation as well.

#5 - 2018-10-08 04:48 AM - Nathan Woodrow

- Status changed from Open to Feedback
- Priority changed from Normal to Low

Possible that this has already been fixed in a older version as I can't replicate it in 3.x.

#6 - 2018-10-15 03:58 AM - Nathan Woodrow

- Resolution set to not reproducible
- Status changed from Feedback to Rejected

Can't reproduce here but reopen if it's still happening in latest nightly builds.
