Description
After moving or removing items in the map composer - using qGIS 1.0.1 under Windows XP - SP3, it seems old frames are lines remain on the sheet and are included in the map, when I export it to e.g. jpg-format.

In trunk and 1.0 branch, there is now an additional check if the last item frame has been removed. I think this fixes the bug. Please reopen it if you still have a case where it occurs.
