Description
As shown in the picture attached, would it be possible to make the color wheel appearing directly below the drop down arrow? To me, it's more logical as it's where the user had clicked to make it opens. That being said, I just realised that we can right-click anywhere on the color bar to open the color wheel... but even then, it always opens at the far left of the bar. Can we make it appearing just below the position where the user right-clicked instead?
