I've seen this before, it is related with locale configuration and menu item translations ...

I cannot reproduce on current master with italian locale, can you try the nightly build and check if the issue is still there?

The menu is empty because you probably didn't load any plugin that could use it. Please enable the "Processing" plugin and everything should work.

Alessandro, I guess you remember a different problem: if the Processing algorithms are bound to the "Vettore" menu and you switch to e.g. French, you'll see two menus: "Vecteur" (empty if there is no other plugin to use it) and the good old "Vettore" coming from QSettings (#18202).
