Description

Currently, the Log Messages panel can only be docked to the top or bottom of the Map Canvas. Oftentimes, I don't wish to lose any more space in that area than I already have lost to my side panels and toolbars, so I'd prefer being able to dock the Log Messages panel to the sidebars along with my other tools. This would help cut down on some of the Map Canvas space being wasted since the Log Messages panel would simply be another tab in a sidebar that already exists, instead of eating up precious vertical resolution on a 16:9 monitor.
