Description

I'd like to see this panel have both automated entries (user-initiated saves) as well as the current manual notes that can be added.

Furthermore, some metadata for each entry would be useful, like datetime of add for the note (autofill, but allow manual entry/override), as well as username (autofill, but allow manual entry). Also, possible column for "reason" or similar would be useful as well.

I'd also like to see every entry in this panel be callable with a variable so they can be used on document layouts to populate something like an edit history/document pedgriee, if needed.
