Description

If set type of render as Single Symbol then may notice 'Remove from style' button is absent.

The add to style button is there to allow quickly add the current symbol. The management of symbols (removing, editing) can be done within Style Manager (available from Options menu). I'm not sure if adding further buttons wouldn't clutter the interface.

- Resolution set to fixed
- Status changed from Open to Closed

There is a button now which opens style manager where the symbols can be removed.
