Description In the old symbology UI you where able to select multiple items and change them to all the same style at once, the new one doesn't seem to able to do this [not that I could find anyway]. Is it possible to add this to the new symbology UI as it makes changing styles for all the objects very easy rather then each one individually.

Some time ago Marco has implemented the functionality to change various symbol properties for multiple symbols at once (right-click the list to open a popup menu).
