QGIS Application - Feature request #4299
Change TOC symbology classes order according to order in the "style" tab of the vector properties

Description

When using categorized new symbology, if the entries are sorted by Value, the labels can be edited but when they are next loaded, the wrong entries were changed.

As an aside, it would be nice if when the values were sorted (by value or label) this became the new order in both the dialog and Layers window.

History

#1 - 2011-10-02 12:01 PM - Giovanni Manghi

- OS version deleted (1.7.0)

- Tracker changed from Bug report to Feature request

- Subject changed from New symbology layer properties changing wrong label to Change TOC symbology classes according to ordering in the "style" tab in the vector properties

Hello, bug triage...

in QGIS 2.13 master (and probably in previous versions), the order of the categorized and graduated renderers is preserved from what is displayed in the Style tab and what is shown on the Layers Panel.

I am closing this feature request.
