Sorry for bothering - but the attribute table button functionality is rather crucial when using QGIS.

Please re-assign the button to the "open table" event (or whatever is needed).

thanks,
Markus

I'm working on the fix, however it needs a bit more work than just a one-line fix.

Currently it's possible to open the table, however in a bit weird way:

- in legend right click and select "show file groups"
- open the files group for a layer
- right click on the layer file and select open attribute table

- Resolution set to fixed
- Status changed from Open to Closed

Should be fixed in commit:99a0d05e (SVN r6475).
