The repository exist, is called ubuntugis but the packages for precise are not yet available. In any case is not a QGIS issue. Meanwhile want to use QGIS on precise? use the nightly-build repo (see the download page), in this way you'll be able to install qgis-master.

I add this: "deb <http://qgis.org/debian-nightly> precise main" and I still can't download qgis-master.

```
"~:$ sudo install qgis-master
```

```
[sudo] password for:
```

```
install: brakujący plik docelowy po `qgis-master'" - there isn't file.
```
