Description

I have a pc with [[WindowsXP]] + SP2 and all updates. Hardware: Sempron 3100+, Ati Xpress 200M, When I try change Projection System, the application say:

Microsoft Visual C++ Runtime Library

Assertion failed!

Program:e:\Quantum GIS\qgis.exe

File: qgsprojectionselector.cpp

Line: 532

Expression: myResult == 0

I don't see this problem with other pcs where winXP + SP2 is present. This problem is occured after reinstallation of my pc. Before not.

Try completely uninstalling qgis, then install the latest windows version. That error looks to be caused by a file not being installed in the right place or qgis trying to write a file to a directory that it doesn't permission to do so.

Isn't this a dupe of #676 ?

#3 - 2007-06-11 05:24 PM - Tim Sutton

Im moving this over to 0.8.2 milestone - if we dont get any fresh reports, I will close it.

- Resolution set to fixed

- Status changed from Open to Closed

Yes, that should be the same problem as #676, let's close this one too.
