I can't reproduce this.

When the edit form opens, do you have only one button (ok) or two (ok, cancel)?

I have two, ok and cancel. I have just tested again on two different computers, one with Windows/osgeo4w and the other with Linux/nightly-build.

I think it only happens with point layer !

You're right, but apparently only if the polygon layer has Multi* type geometries !

The geometry type was a casualty ! Sorry for the noise !

While it seems that the new checkbox "Editable" in attribute edit dialog doesn't work as expected, indeed the value is always unchecked, although looking in UI file I see the property of the checkbox is "checked = True" !

This new feature has been introduced by Denis, so he could help us to solve this issue!

I think I got the error, it probably happens only for newly created layers. I will try to fix this tomorrow morning.
