Description

subject says it all. See attached screenshots. It seems that the "0" in the vertical ruler is never visible.

[composer] Make sure ruler size is based off font size (fix #7476).

Only do ruler calculations once, not on every paint event.

Confirmed, the "0" is never visible, also it seems that when the font is above 11 font size it gets truncated. While we are at it, I think the ruler would benefit from having subdivisions and telling you the exact x & y position of the guide something like Inkscape has

Yes it would be nice to use a much smaller font e.g. 8point by default for this.
