

QGIS Plugin Site - Feature request #9876

The repository tag could be taken from the recent upload instead of the oldest one

Description
If multiple plugin versions contain different urls to the code repository, only the oldest one is considered. It would be nice to present the recently uploaded one instead, so the tag was valid even after migration to a new repository. For example, the Triangulation plugin has been moved form faunalia svn to github, and the repository tag became obsolete. I didn't tested if homepage and tracker tags behave the same.
